

Ling Li, MD

Short Biographical Sketch

Ling Li, M.D. is an American Board-certified forensic pathologist who has been working at the Office of the Chief Medical Examiner (OCME), State of Maryland for more than 30 years. She has trained many forensic fellows, pathology residents, and pathology assistants. She is the Director of the Master's Program in Forensic Medicine at the University of Maryland Baltimore (UMB). She is a Professor at the Departments of Pediatrics and Pathology of the University of Maryland School of Medicine and an Adjunct Professor of the Department of Pathology at Johns Hopkins Medical School. She has authored and co-authored more than 80 peer-reviewed journal articles and 3 book chapters. She is the Editor of "Forensic Medicine -an English textbook for medical students, law students and forensic experts." Her major research interests include sudden unexpected infant death, pediatric head trauma, and drug related deaths. She is the Editor-in-Chief of the "Journal of Forensic Science and Medicine". Dr. Li serves on the editorial boards of the "Journal of Forensic Research" and the journal of "Injury Epidemiology".