

The University of Vermont
LARNER COLLEGE OF MEDICINE

ACADEMIC SURGICAL PATHOLOGIST UNIVERSITY OF VERMONT

The Department of Pathology and Laboratory Medicine of The Robert Larner, M.D. College of Medicine at the University of Vermont (UVM) is seeking an academic surgical pathologist for a full-time faculty appointment on the Clinical Scholar Pathway (non-tenure) at the Assistant, Associate, or Professor academic rank. Board eligibility or certification in Anatomic Pathology is required. The candidate must possess training and/or experience in general surgical pathology, and subspecialty service will be tailored to align with the candidate's interest in anatomic pathology.

The candidate will join our 24 pathology colleagues in the Division of Anatomic Pathology at the University of Vermont Medical Center, which is the academic hospital in UVM Health Network. The Department serves as a regional reference laboratory for Vermont, upstate New York, and upstate New Hampshire, reviewing approximately 45,000 surgical pathology specimens annually. The candidate should be committed to education of medical students, residents, and surgical pathology and cytopathology fellows. The Department of Pathology and Laboratory Medicine provides academic effort for an initial three years, allowing our new faculty to develop scholarly and educational activities aligned with their interests.

The University is especially interested in candidates who can contribute to the diversity and excellence of the academic community through their research, teaching and/or service. Applicants are required to submit a separate statement of advancing diversity and inclusive excellence. The University of Vermont is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, protected veteran status, or any other category legally protected by federal or state law. The University encourages applications from all individuals who will contribute to the diversity and excellence of the institution.

Burlington is a New England university city situated on the shores of beautiful Lake Champlain to the west, and bordered by the Green Mountains to the east, both of which offer easy access to year-round outdoor recreational activities/sports. Burlington is within driving distance to major US and Canadian cities and was recently voted one of the most desirable cities in the USA in which to raise children.

Interested individuals should apply online at <https://www.uvmjobs.com> and reference position number 00026544. Please include in your application a detailed introductory cover letter summarizing your qualifications and expertise, a statement about your prior contributions to inclusive excellence, a curriculum vitae and names and contact information for three references. Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled; however, we strongly encourage the submission of materials by May 30, 2024. Please direct any questions regarding the application process to: Ms, Lisa Kapoor (Lisa.Kapoor@uvmhealth.org) Department of Pathology and Laboratory Medicine.
