

Assistant/Associate Professor of Pathology, DCOM, Knoxville and Harrogate

Join a dynamic group of faculties interested in educating future physicians!

We are currently seeking two Assistant/Associate/Professors of Pathology for our medical school in Harrogate and Knoxville, Tennessee campus's.

Lincoln Memorial University's DeBusk College of Osteopathic Medicine (DCOM) was established in 2007 in Harrogate, Tennessee, with the mission of placing primary care doctors in Appalachia and the surrounding area.

JOB DESCRIPTION

The Assistant/Associate Professor of Pathology for the DCOM shall have the primary responsibility for teaching general pathology, systemic pathology and histology in accordance with LMU-DCOM approved curriculum and for scholarly activity. They shall be held accountable for these obligations as they contribute to the attainment of the mission of the University, the School, and the Department.

REQUIRED QUALIFICATIONS

MD or DO, must be board certified in Anatomic Pathology and Clinical Pathology, able to be licensed in Tennessee within the first year of hire date by the Tennessee Board of Osteopathic Examination/Tennessee Medical State Board; unrestricted Tennessee license; or a PhD in pathology with experience teaching histology and systemic pathology.

For more information and to APPLY, please email Annette.hensley@lmunet.edu.

LMU offers competitive pay, benefits, PTO, paid holidays, and work/life balance.

Lincoln Memorial University is an Equal Opportunity Employer. Equal access to programs, services and employment opportunities are available to all persons without regard to race, color, religion, sex (including pregnancy), disability, age, sickle cell trait, national origin, genetic information, or any other basis protected by the federal, state, and/or local law.