REQUIREMENTS

To apply, this position requires 1.) A valid Georgia medical license and 2.) certification by the American Board of Pathology in the discipline of anatomic pathology or successful completion within two-year of employment. The physician should have the communication and professional skills to teach fellows, residents, and students, interact with families, law enforcement, and attorneys. Court appearances are primarily in DeKalb County, within 5 miles of the office. The office is accredited by ACGME and sponsored by Morehouse School of Medicine to train 1-2 forensic pathology fellows. The office serves as the core-rotational site for Emory Department of Pathology residents. We also have agreements with several local and national medical schools to host their MD and DO student doctors for elective rotations. These educational initiatives necessitate participation from the physician staff.
