

NM OFFICE OF THE MEDICAL INVESTIGATOR

Forensic Pathologist

Assistant Professor: $253,523 plus $32,000 yearly incentives

Associate professor: $302,959 plus $32,000 yearly incentives

Professor: $360,500 plus $32,000 yearly incentives

3rd year retention bonus of $20,000

The Office of the Medical Investigator, administratively housed at the University of New Mexico, is seeking three, full time, forensic pathologists to join an amazing team of forensic pathologists housing one of the most reputable forensic pathology fellowship programs that has trained 121 forensic pathologists since 1975.

The Office of the Medical Investigator is a statewide, centralized, academically based medicolegal death investigative agency for New Mexico. This agency investigates approximately 7,000 of the 18,000 deaths that occur each year in New Mexico and performs approximately 2,000 autopsies and 2,500 external examinations each year. The office has been NAME accredited since 1976. Detailed death investigation data (1977-present) is recorded in an electronic database.

About New Mexico

New Mexico is the fifth largest state in the United States and is home to roughly 2.1 million people. New Mexico offers one of the most diverse landscapes of any U.S state, from auburn deserts, grasslands, mesas, and snow-capped mountain peaks. Experience over 300 days of sunshine and all four seasons! Outdoor pursuits await in our beautiful state.

New Mexico is also full of diversity, with roughly half the population identifying as Hispanic or Latino, and is home to the fourth largest Native American community in the U.S.

About the OMI

- A cohesive team of board-certified forensic pathologists, two forensic anthropologists, a forensic odontologist, two neuropathologists, pathologist's assistants, and Pathology and Radiology consults at the University of New Mexico.
- NAME accredited and modernized facility.
- On-site Computed Tomography (CT) scanner used to triage every case.
- Work/life Balance: An average of ten exam days per month when fully staffed. Telecommute options when not performing examinations.
- Forensic Pathology Fellowship Program: Funded for four fellows with an incredible training track-record.
- University of New Mexico: Faculty appointments within the Pathology Department.
- Rotating Pathology residents and medical students, providing ample mentor and education opportunities.
- Research opportunities: A full-time epidemiologist, physicist, and staff for statistical analysis.
- Grief services department assists with family communication.
- Complete support staff: Investigators who respond to scenes and staff the office 24/7; morphology technicians and full administrative support staff.
- Histology services provided by a local laboratory. Toxicology testing is provided by a nationally recognized external laboratory.
- Private transportation services for judicial hearings within New Mexico.

Benefits

- Multiple retirement plan options
 - Defined contribution plan options (similar to a pension) with significant employer contribution
 - Tax deferred voluntary retirement plans (403(b) and 457(b))
- Annual leave: 21 days/year (252 hours maximum accrual)
- Sick leave: 10 working days
- Parental leave: Up to 120 consecutive days or 17 weeks (inclusive of holidays)
- Professional leave: Up to 12 working days in a fiscal year
- $3000 annually, for professional/education/travel expenses
- Relocation package
- Medical, Dental, Basic Life, and Long-Term Disability Coverage
- Tuition Remission for employee and spouse/domestic partner

Minimum Requirements:

- M.D., or equivalent
- Board Certified/eligible in Anatomic Pathology

- Board Certified/eligible in Forensic Pathology or currently in a Forensic Pathology Fellowship
- Eligible to work in the U.S.

Applications will be accepted until the position is filled. The position will remain open until filled.

For complete details of this position or to apply, please visit this website:

<https://unm.csod.com/ux/ats/careersite/18/home/requisition/30252?c=unm>

This position may be subject to criminal records screening in accordance with New Mexico law. If criminal records screening is mandated, clearance by the New Mexico Department of Health is required as a condition of employment.

For additional information, visit our web site at: <http://pathology.unm.edu/> or contact Ruth Kief, Operations Manager, Department of Pathology, telephone: 505 272-9877, email: rkief@salud.unm.edu

The University of New Mexico is an EEO/AA employer and educator.

UNM's confidentiality policy ("Disclosure of Information about Candidates for Employment," UNM Board of Regents' Policy Manual 6.7), which includes information about public disclosure of documents submitted by applicants, is located at <https://policy.unm.edu/regents-policies/section-6/6-7.html>

