

El Paso County, Colorado

Forensic Pathologist

A forensic pathology career with room for life

Hiring range:

$280,000 -
$316,000

ANNUALLY

QUALIFICATIONS

- Graduate of an accredited medical school
- Graduate from an accredited pathology residency and forensic fellowship
 - Those with a forensic fellowship in progress are also encouraged to apply

Live in a community that has over 300 days of sunshine annually

For recruitment related questions please contact:

ErynAlbright@elpasoco.com

JOIN OUR TEAM

*Where meaningful work
meets the mountains*

Join our collaborative team of five forensic pathologists in Colorado Springs, Colorado, your new haven for work-life balance with over 300 days of sunshine every year! Our doctors work a variety of cases originating in both our home jurisdiction of El Paso County—the state’s largest county—and approximately 20 southeastern Colorado counties who request our autopsy services

We have excellent relationships with law enforcement and attorneys’ offices, and our support roles are fully staffed. Morgue days, at-home call, and community outreach activities are shared by all physicians in our dog-friendly, laidback office. We’re the only office in the state with in-house toxicology, dermestid beetles, and views of Pikes Peak, America’s mountain. Additionally, we have in-house histology, a VertiQ case management system, Lodox imaging, and the Dragon dictation system. Our workplace features on-site neuropathology and forensic odontology consultations; offsite anthropology consultation; resident and medical student teaching opportunities; and CME, conference, and licensure funding. Our office has been NAME accredited since the 1980s.

El Paso County backs their belief in treating employees well with an excellent health plan, a generous pension, and historic raises and bonuses. Whether you’re looking for an active urban, chill mountain, or quiet suburban lifestyle, Olympic City USA has it all for anyone who is lucky enough to consider Colorado Springs “home”.

Essential Duties/Responsibilities

- Performs complete forensic autopsies and evaluates medical and law enforcement information and additional studies in order to establish cause and manner of death.
- Prepares detailed autopsy reports and confers with family, law enforcement, and judicial personnel to assist with interpreting autopsy findings.
- Completes death certificates.
- Testifies in criminal and civil trials.
- Advises death scene investigators and other county coroners as needed
- Produces appropriate records related to forensic autopsies.
- Remains informed of developments in forensic pathology.
- Serves as member of disaster team when designated by Coroner.
- Performs other duties as required.

Make the most of life beyond work

- Find a trail close to home. Hike Garden of the Gods, Red Rock Canyon or the Manitou Incline.
- Make a weekend of the mountains. Ski Monarch Mountain, Breckenridge, and other resorts within a few hours' drive.
- Cheer on the home teams. Catch Switchbacks FC soccer at Weidner Field, where UFL football is set to begin in 2027.
- Enjoy a night out. Explore downtown dining, theater, concerts, and live music.
- Find space to put down roots. Explore local school districts and County parks with playgrounds, sports fields, and trails.

Bring your expertise to El Paso County

- A team built for the work. Share morgue days and at-home on call days with five other forensic pathologists and fully staffed support roles.
- Tools and expertise on site. Work with in-house toxicology and histology, Lodox imaging, and neuropathology and forensic odontology consultations.
- Support for your growth. Teaching and publication opportunities available and funding for CME, conferences, and licensure provided

Ready to take the next step?
Apply for the Forensic Pathologist position

Questions?

Contact Eryn Albright, Talent Acquisition Specialist
ErynAlbright@elpasoco.com

