Overview

Forensic Pathology Associates (FPA), a Division of HNL Lab Medicine, is seeking a Forensic Pathologist to join our team. FPA has been providing quality forensic pathology services to Eastern Pennsylvania for over three decades. Since 2015, FPA has held NAME accreditation. FPA currently provides comprehensive autopsy and consultative services to county coroners and hospitals in Eastern Pennsylvania while maintaining trusted relationships with all county coroners, investigating agencies, prosecutors, defense attorneys, and civil attorneys throughout the Commonwealth. FPA's growing team consists of a Chief of Forensic Pathology, 3 board certified Forensic Pathologists, and 1 board certified Forensic Pathologist/Neuropathologist. The forensic pathologists are supported by a great team of autopsy assistants and administrative staff and driven by a full-service clinical laboratory, HNL Lab Medicine. As a division of HNL Lab Medicine, FPA has direct access to an extensive testing menu and department specialists in Anatomic and Clinical Pathology, Histology, Cytogenetics, Chemistry, Hematology, Molecular Diagnostics, and Microbiology. Plans for whole-body computed tomography.

Forensic pathologists typically perform 15-25 autopsies per month, including medicolegal, hospital, and private autopsies. No more than three autopsies per day are performed by an individual physician. Weekly on-call and Saturday autopsy coverage rotates among the physicians and typically averages 10 times a year. No autopsies are scheduled for Sundays. If desired, there are multiple opportunities to teach residents, pathology assistants, and forensic personnel. All physicians are appointed to the medical staff of the Lehigh Valley Health Network Hospital System with the opportunity to be appointed in the Pathology Department at the University of South Florida Morsani College of Medicine.

Job Duties and Responsibilities

- Performs primary functions of a forensic pathologist in accordance with NAME standards to document autopsy findings and determine cause of death
- On-call time divided among full-time Forensic Pathologists
- Consults with coroners, attorneys, physicians, families, and law enforcement
- Provides expert testimony in criminal and civil court as requested

Qualifications

MD or DO degree with American Board of Pathology certification in AP or AP/CP. Fellowship training in forensic pathology and board certification in forensic pathology within 1 year of employment. Current or ability to obtain a license to practice medicine in Pennsylvania prior to employment.
