THE OREGON STATE MEDICAL EXAMINER IS SEEKING LOCUM TENENS FORENSIC PATHOLOGISTS

The Oregon State Medical Examiner is currently accepting applications for locum tenens pathologists to assist our forensic pathologists with a growing caseload and coverage of a satellite facility in Southern Oregon.

Oregon is one of the most popular relocation destinations for Americans, offering ample opportunities for a wide variety of outdoor activities across diverse geography that includes forests, mountains, and deserts. Oregon hosts many vibrant communities in all corners of the state.

We are seeking a pathologist who is capable of working independently across a wide variety of case types. Requirements include:

- Board certification in anatomic and forensic pathology
- At least 3 years post-fellowship experience
- Ability to commit to at least 3 consecutive days
- Valid Oregon Medical License
- Professional liability insurance

The per-diem pathologist will work alongside our forensic pathologists and will be supervised by the Chief Medical Examiner. This will not include homicides, pediatric cases, or those of high medico-legal interest.

Interested applicants should send a CV to sean.hurst@osp.oregon.gov
